Instead of implementing XP via cash or coin drop-rates (as would be done in a game that relies on premium features), they offer more life points as a way to make it easier for players if they choose to purchase them. Free games also don't have an option of offering premium features that modify their economies or XP systems. Therefore, they usually offer only the default system as an option for non-Premium members.

I could add trains, people, animals and pretty much anything else you can think of. I also liked making my own avatar because it gives me a lot of choices in making the way they look. Another thing I was really interested in was Roblox role play which is basically acting like someone else for a little while. You can choose one of your friends or even make up a new person and act like them until you want to stop again. This is good for kids because they get to learn how to act like they're someone else. It's also good for when they have to act in school and it can teach them a lot of things.
